BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

Submits for orders of Govt the resolution of the committee on the above subject.

NOTES AND ORDERS.

This is in regard to nomination of heirs by insurants. As the rule stands at present the formalities of registering approval of the nomination by the committee & its registration have all to be done in connection with a nomination (done with all the solemnities requisite for making a valid will) have not been completed. It would seem that the essential in nomination is the intention of the nominator, but the rule as it is worked now shifts the importance to the acceptance by the committee of the nominee & the registration of the application. The rule as it stands determines nomination to mature of a contract involving an offer & an acceptance to make it valid. In practice both no such situation arises

The present amendment does not enter into the above difficulty - but instead of the approval of the committee involving unavoidable delay the approval in ordinary cases is proposed to be vested in the President & the Secretary or in doubtful cases the Committee. This will not afford the relief needed for easing the needless severity in working the rule. Submitted for orders.

3/6/10 The proposed amendment does not go far. No doubt removes the appeal against the nomination but will leave the matter where it was. Would be made more easy for making nominations. Moreover better if it is laid that an application signed & the moment before a Magistrate or before his Med attendant during his last illness or even before the Village Munsiff ought to be taken as valid. The chief object aimed, it is submitted, be to see that the application is from the insured and that there is no other difficulty apparent on the face of the application militating against its acceptance. As the rule now stands and as the Scheme itself has been created & an Executive order yet and Compulsorily enforced by on all permanent officers there can be no case of "free Consent" to the Contract and it may perhaps be difficult to effect any nomination made however as the Contract would be binding as it has not been entered into & the free consent of at least one of the Contracting parties and this defence can always be pleaded for disobeying the rule.

4 Again such an elaborate formality is not required & private persons Companies when a formal deed of partnership does the whole business. Moved therefore Secy. that he may be allowed to relax the rule and allow nominations being made without any formality & keeping the presence of two irreproachable witnesses and the signature of the nominator
